

INFORMATION ABOUT AVAILABILITY OF LOCTITE PRODUCTS

Hi Len,

I forwarded this information to you, as it might be of help to some of our fellow club members, should they ever be in search of LOCTITE products(Henkel Industries).

I was searching for some Loctite Maximum Strength Headliner Adhesive (item #37312) to redo some of my carpet/upholstery. ( I had purchased a can of it from Victoria British originally).

I went on the Henkel Loctite website and couldn't find the product number anywhere, or a reference to local distributors, hence my e-mail to the manufacturer for clarification. Before I got this reply from them I had already ordered some more from Victoria British!

The website that is mentioned below gives a list of about 30 places, within 50 miles, that might have Loctite products, but not necessarily the ones we would want. As you can see some of their products are not sold through retail stores, since they are of a more specialised nature.

The last paragraph of the e-mail below refers to courses on their products. Maybe some of the more ardent enthusiasts in the club might be interested in those too, if they have any big projects in mind, involving sealants/adhesives etc.

Cheers,
John Baldwin

Subject: Local Supplier of 37312?

Hi, John.

Loctite Maximum Strength Headliner Adhesive (Item #37312) can only be purchased through an industrial or automotive aftermarket distributor. You cannot find this product in a retail store.

Below is a link to our website where you can obtain a listing of distributors based on zip code/postal code. Copy and paste it into your web browser and follow the prompts to obtain a listing of distributors in your local area. Be sure to select "Loctite Industrial" or "Automotive Aftermarket Products" from the distributor type drop down box.

Please note this link only provides a listing of distributors and does not guarantee the product you are seeking is in stock. Henkel does not track distributor stock so I am unable tell you who actually carries the product.
